Company Profile:

A single-family office for multiple families

Attendee Brief Bio:

After completing a Master's in Sciences in Finance and Investments and Accounting, Control & Financial Management, Wouter began his career as an investment banker. He worked in M&A and Equity Capital Markets at Barclays Capital and UBS Investment Bank before joining a EUR1bn pan-European activist hedge fund. Following his public equities work, Wouter joined the private equity team of a mid-market fund, later pursuing an INSEAD MBA. After graduating with distinction, he founded tech startups. Since 2011, he has represented his family in their company, becoming the Netherlands' youngest non-executive of a regulated financial institution. Concurrently, he managed the family office, established in 1987, and later moved it from the Netherlands to Singapore. As Blauwpark Partners, it transformed into a 'single-family office for multiple families,' helping Asian and European families manage wealth.
